

Hitler's Gold Dental Fillings Stolen from The Mouths Of Holocaust Victims

It looks like I was right all along.

Whatever the original reasons the Nazis had for instigating the "Holocaust" program, it appears that the enterprise quickly turned into the biggest "gold rush" in European history, with the "mother lode" in the teeth of the victims being "rushed" to the purpose-built smelting centres at Auschwitz, Belsen etc. in railway cattle wagons.

There is documentary evidence to the effect that the Nazis used the dental gold stolen from holocaust victims for filling their own teeth.

And now it appears that even Hitler himself was involved in this practice, see "Hitler had fillings made from gold torn from mouths of Jews" at:

<http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/worldnews/europe/germany/6274390/Hitler-had-fillings-made-from-gold-torn-from-mouths-of-Jews.html>

Why did Hitler feel he had to have his teeth filled with stolen holocaust dental gold?

Did his teeth suddenly begin to decay at a late stage in his life?

Or was it that he had his existing fillings replaced with the stolen gold?

And if so, why?

What was wrong with "good old" mercury amalgam?

Could it be that Hitler became an "anti-amalgamist"?

If so then I would suggest that he may have been the most evil one that ever existed.

Keith P Walsh

PS, for further debate on Holocaust Dental Gold google:

Holocaust Dental Gold Underestimated?

Holocaust Dental Gold: 20 Pounds per Krema per Day

Holocaust Dental Gold: Questions Unanswered

Holocaust Dental Gold: Eyewitness Testimony

Holocaust Dental Gold: The Fast Track to the Gas Chamber

Written 17 October 2010

Uploaded in PDF format with corrections – May 2014